Colonel Bersey explained that the old numbers and names of organizations will be retained as far as practions will be retained as far as practicable. The two regiments of infantry allowed Michigan will be known as the 125th infantry and 126th infantry, Michigan National Guard. Colonel Bersey said further that the records and flags will be kept intact with the new regiments as far as possible. According to Colonel Bersey, there are 150 old officers in the Michigan National Guard Reserve corps, and most of these will be assigned to active duty as soon as units in their respective cities and towns have been organized. have been organized.

At present, three companies of in-fantry have been accepted in the new state militia, and there are eight companies of infantry and two troops of cavalry ready to be mustered into service as soon as the war department is ready to accept them. One of the companies already accepted is located artillery during the war; Colonel A. C. Pack; Major Schouten; Major John

The meeting was continued over to Sunday morning when formal discussions were held in the interest of reorganization of the Michigan guard. It appears from reports that many of those serving in the war were opposed to National guard service among whom the sentiment "never again" seemed to prevail. It was brot out that such sentiments came almost entirely from those who entered the service during the war when most entirely from those who entered the service during the war when discipline was the most rigid, hard drilling and hard work characterizing the everyday program. While among the old members of the National guard under peace times the guard service was an inspiration, a developer of character and physical resources. Also the annual summer enservice was an inspiration, a developer of character and physical resources. Also the annual summer ensurement at the Hanson reservation was something to look forward to with pleasure and delightful anticipation. "There is no finer summer resort in all America" said one of the speakers, "and no military camp in the world that is equal to it."

The men present organized themselves to use their best efforts toward the restablishment of the Michigan guard. The Federal government has set the number at 12,000 men which Michigan guard produce within a term of about

MRS. W. F. BRINK DIES SUDDEN LY FROM HEART TROUBLE.

Mrs. William F. Brink, one Crawford county's oldest pioneer citizens died suddenly from hear failure Wednesday afternoon

She was actively engaged at he housework when she suddenly collapsed and was soon beyond all human aid. She had been out in the garden talking with her husband and came into the house. Mr. Brink says that he came into the house not more than five minutes later and found her dead on the floor.

Mrs. Brink was a beautiful character, a loving wife, companion and mother and a devout christian. She had many close friends to whom she was most dear. She was a de-lightful companion and has always been held in high esteem among those who knew her best.

MRS, ALBERT SHELLENBARGER PASSED AWAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS.

Death came last Sunday morning to relieve the sufferings of Mrs. Albert Shellenbarger, who has been ill with cancer for almost a year.

Before her marriage in September 15, 1897, she was known as Miss Pearl Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ackerman. She was born August 27th, 1881 at Pere Cheney, where her parents had settled when coming to Crawford county. Her entire life was spent in this county where she had always been at home with her parents. No children came to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shellenbarger. Besides her husband, her lenbarger. Besides her husband, her father, Chris. Ackerman of Detroit and two brothers, Ora, who resides in the West and Christa Ackerman of this city survive, also a half sister, Mrs. Emma Geister of Grand Ra-ter, Mrs. Emma Geister of Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Shellenbarger had a wide circle, of friends on the south side among whom she was well and favorably known. During her illness she bore her sufferings with much patience, never complaining.

The funeral, which was well attended was held at the home Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock conducted by David Christie, evangelist.

SYNOPSIS.—Alighting from a train at Denver a well-dressed traveler is familiarly accosted by a man about his own age. The traveler ignores the advance. A few minutes later he is greeted as "Will" by an elderly lady and gentieman, who stop their auto to speak. He magines it a case of mistaken identity and announces himself as "Richard Clinton," on his way to the oast. The couple appear greatly surprised, and learning he is to be in town until mininght, the tady, introducing herself night, the lady, introducing herself as Mrs. Kirkland, and her husband as Doctor Kirkland, invites him to dinner, explaining the action by his truly remarkable resemblance to a friend of theirs. He accepts. At the Kirkland home he meets a young lady who greets him as her flance. She is Ellen Kirkland, and plainly is greatly hurt by his assertion that he is "Richard Clinton." At dinner "Clinton" learns that his host is a medical specialist and that he is helieved to be Will Lowrie, a young man who had been suffering from a nervous breakdown and had gone east for medical treatment. Lowrie had had in his possession bonds of the value night, the lady, introducing herse, as Mrs. Kirkland, and her husban cal treatment. Lowrle had had in his possession bonds of the value of $100,000, belonging to the bank where he was employed, which have disappeared and of which he has no recollection. With Doctor Kirkland "Clinton" goes to the Lowrle home, the doctor being sat-isfied that Amy Lowrle, Will's sis-ter, will convince "Clinton" he is really Lowrle, suffering from loss of memory. Amy declares at once of memory. Amy declares at once he is her brother, and insists on ne is her brether, and insists on treating him as such, to his great embarrassment. Doctor Kirkland sends a telegram to the sanita-rium where Lowrie is undergoing treatment. Ellen and Amy try in vain te convince "Clinton" he is Will Lowrie.

"Stay? You mean stay here and rob me of my trip?" pouted the girl. "Very sensibly!" exclaimed Mrs.

"Unless you drive me mad!" qualifled Clinton. "I shall stay in Denver, but on condition that Doctor Kirkland shall at once telegraph to inquire

"The telegram shall be sent to-night," said Doctor Kirkland, "No doubt we shall hear from the sanitarium some time tomorrow.

"Very well. I suppose I can keep sane that long. May I ask you to send telegrams for me to— No, that will not be necessary. The answer to your telegram will prove that I cannot be Mr. Lowrie.

"Mr. Lowrie!" chuckled Bemm. Clinton flushed and almost snatched out a wallet, which he opened so hurriedly that the contents fell from it ng them was a bank draft and a yard-long railroad ticket. As he caught these from his hip to hand to Doctor Kirkland Bemm stooped to pick up the baggage check that had fallen on the floor. BENEFITS OF SILAGE ACIDS

Fermentation of Feed Has an portant Dietetic Value-Keeps Bowels Regulated.

The acidity of silage caused largely by the formation of lactic acid by the fermentation of the feed has an important dietetic value, regulating the bowels and checking undesirable putrefactive processes in the intestines. The favorable influence of silage on the health of animals has been commonly noted, and is probably due to the silage acids.

Detroit .-- All of the $15,000,000 street railway bonds, when sold, will constitute a valid and binding obliga tion of the city of Detroit, according to an opinion given by John C. Thom son. New York attorney and munici-al bond expert. In this connection will be recalled that previous to the icipal street railway or Couzens announced that the an would not impose any additional burden on the tax payers, iable for the debts of the city.

Held Binding Obligations, Following the passage of the bond issue by the people the city engaged Mr. Thomson to "examine into the validity and regularity of the proces ings to authorize $15,000,000 public utility bonds for the city of Detroit." His opinion is that the "bonds will "bonds will constitute valid and binding obliga-tions of the city of Detroit," and also that the proceedings will be regular and complete when the bonds have than par and accrued interest to the date of delivery."

Attorney Thomson's Opinion. 'At the request of the city of Detroit, Mich., I have examined into the validity and regularity of the proceedings to authorize $15,000,000 nublic utility bonds of the city of Detroit, Mich., to be issued for the purpose of acquiring and owning a street rail-way system. I have examined certified copies of the proceedings of the common council and the officers of the city of Detroit for the submission of the question of acquiring, owning and operating said street railway system and issuing the said bonds, including all proceedings down to and including the canvass and certification of the vote at the election on said question on April 5, 1920. I have also examined the constitution and statutes of the state of Michigan and the charter of the city of Detroit.

"It is my opinion that the said pro ceedings have been regularly taken and that they show good authority for the issuance of public utility bonds of the city of Detroit to the amount of $15,000,000, and that when said bonds have been finally authorized, offered and sold, in proper form, and for the price of not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery and have been signed and executed in conformity with the charter of the city and will constitute valid and binding obligations of the city of Detroit, Mich.

Of course, as a lot of magnates de-

But some times some of the umpiring is more or less rotten and calculated to draw as loud a squawl from the player as it does from the innocent bystander. Mr R. Bipling has said something about the American inclination to flount the law he makes or something like this, and this national trait very naturally creeps into the national pastime, or else it wouldn't be a national pastime. It would be an international one like tennis, where a umpire never yet has been forced to duck a pop bottle even in St. Louis.

It may be that I am an outlaw at heart, because I am entertained by a healthy squawk. And if I am an outlaw for this there are a lot of others with me. Umpiring requires a lot of discretion. That's why umpires are Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it nakes any one so.

one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr.
Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such onditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Sales of this tire have increased 96% the first six months of this year, proving the balanced tire, the Firestone 3½ has accomplished what Firestone sought for it, more mileage, greater economy, greater comfort, which has been passed on to the public at low cost—most miles per dollar.

Balanced! That means to you more than mere thickness of tread, greater air capacity, more plies of fabric, greater cushioning, or the gauge of the sidewall. It means that all component parts of the Firestone 3½ are scientifically balanced by specialists who have put years of study and practice into a single purpose—to meet your demand in a small car tire. You can now have all four tires on your car give uniform service if they are Firestone.

NDREW JACKSON, the unlet-A NDREW JACKSON, the tered backwoodsman, treading at the heels of John Quincy Adams, the most cultured in all the line, presents the sharpest contrast to be seen in the procession of presidents. The first president born in a log cabin, Jackson could not claim as his own even that lowly dwelling in the North Carolina forest, but entered the world homeless and fatherless. Sprung from poor Irish immigrants, his parents had been in the country only two years when the father sank into an unmarked grave a few days before Andrew's birth, leaving his family without a roof or an acre.

No other among American leaders received from the War of Independence such a legacy of bitter memories as it bequeathed to Jackson. That savage strugg)e between Whig and Tory swept away his brave mother and dred and left him, at fifteen, alone in the world.

A ragged, roving walf of the Revo lution, he grew up as wild as a weed. With no hand above him, his high spirits led him into the temptations of his primitive world, whose social standards were 200 years behind the times. Drinking, and carousing, gainoling, cock fighting and horse racing. young Jackson never took a dare. A bully among rowdies, he went his roy-stering way along a road that is not to be laid down on the man of conduct is a course to the White House.

As he rose from a chore hov and a addler's apprentice to be a lawyer of the South ringing with cheete, or and a judge of the Supreme court of Tennessee, he cast aside the dissipa-tions of his careless youth, but he never lost the spirit of the clansman.

A bare catalog of his quarrels and fights is too long to be given here. In most of them he was fired with the conviction that he was defending the name of his wife. This had brought into question only by his own characteristic imprudence, when he fell in love with his landlady's daughter, while she was yet married to anwithout waiting to verify the mere rumor that her offended husband had obtained a divorce in a neighboring state. After two years of wedded life, the too hasty couple learned that the woman's first marriage had only just been dissolved and they had to make a spectacle of themselves as they went through another ceremony in order to e united in lawful bonds

Because his own impulsive conduct had exposed his honest, devoted wife to the slanderous tongues of the gossips, Jackson was all the more sen sitive to her sufferings. For sneering at her over a bar one man was stood up at 24 paces and shot to death by the avenging husband, who kent his pistols in perfect condition through 37 years, as Barton says, for anyone who dared breathe her name except in Even at the sober age of forty-six Jackson plunged into a tavern brawl at Nashville with Thomas H. Benton ifterward the distinguished senator from Missouri, and was shattered for ife by two balls and a slug which That was his last personal altercation In a few weeks he was called from his bed of pain to take part in a public altercation between the United States and Great Britain and, with his arm grow up and join hands with the still in a sling, he rose to do battle for East in saving the Union.

JACKSON'S administration stands J forth in the half-century between Jefferson and Lincoln because of two measures. One of these was the overthrow of the United States bank.

That great institution, patterned after the Bank of England and the Bank of France, was an efficient but dangerous partner for a democratic government. It was a money monopoly which could make or break any enterprise in the country; it held in its grasp the financial life of America; it received and distributed all the revenues of the nation and half of its deposits were public moneys; but, with only a fifth of its directors appointed by the government, it was not under public control.

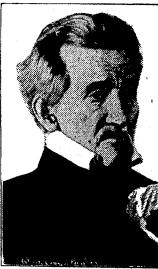

When Jackson began his audacious upon the bank, it was at the height of its power. Against heavy odds, he vetoed the bill for rechartering it; took his case to the people in his campaign for re-election, scored a complete victory. O strength of that popular verdict he and left the bank to a slow and ignominious collapse.
For this action the senate censured him. After a bitter fight, in which Jackson's one-time antagonist, Thomas H. Benton, now a senator from Missouri, was his champion, the resolu-tion was expunged by drawing about it in the records a heavy black line.

Jackson was equally bold and victorious in meeting the threat of nullification, although it came from his own section, from his own party and from his own vice president, John C. Calhoun. Shortly before his inauguration congress passed the first tariff that was framed for the benefit of the new manufacturing industries which were springing up in New England. This bestowed of a special privilege aroused the jenlousy of the agricultural South.

At a Democratic banquet in Washington in 1830. President Jackson rese and proposed this toast: "For Whig and Tory Federal Union; it must be pre-brave mother and served." Then Vice President Calboth of his brothers; scattered his kin- boun got up and toasted the rights of the states. Thus the two highest officials of the government joined issue across that dinner table on question which great armies would fight ouf in another generation.

Two years afterward a convention in South Carolina solemnly adopted an ordinance nullifying the tariff act the boundaries of the state the collection of customs duties under it.

This phrase is said to have originat ed as follows: In a game of nine-pine three pins were set up in form of a triangle and when all pins except these three were knocked down, the set was technically said to be "knocked into a cocked hat." This phrase in time came to mean "entirely out of shape"

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

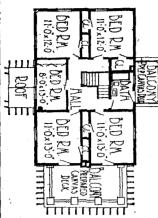

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

In this day when the tendency of rchitects is to design homes with Tew rooms and to plan those rooms the man with a large family does not have so large a range of home build-ing plans to select from. Until some ten years ago few homes containing less than seven rooms were designed or built; now the opposite is the case.

However, sociologists to the contrary notwithstanding, there are many large families, and these large fami-lies want homes planned so that there are enough bedrooms to go At the same time they want homes that are up-to-date in appearunce and in interior arrangement.

A modern, convenient eight-room illustration. This home was designed especially for a family of good size, the two first-floor rooms that are etables and lawn and garden tools.

rooms in addition to the bathroom. The stairs lead to a central half on the second floor, out of which open four bedrooms on the corners and the fifth in the center of the building at the front. Every bedroom has two windows, and all but one have good-sized closets. The bathroom occupies the same position at the rear of this floor as the front middle bedroom, and from it through a French door the canvas-covered rear porch is reached. A large balcony over the sun parlor adjoins both of the bedrooms at that end of the house.

The steep pitch of the roof provides a large and airy attic, wherein if de-sired a couple of more bedrooms can be partitioned off, or the space used for storage. The height of the roof also will tend to keep the house cooler in summer and warmer in winters The basement extends under the whole house, with the exception of the sun parior. It is reached by stairs leading out of the kitchen and, as the whole building is 40 by 26 feet, house—a house containing five bed-rooms—is shown in the accompanying there is plenty of room for the heating plant, the fuel storage room, a laun-dry and storage rooms for fruits, veg-used by all the members of the family are unusually large, while on the nd floor there are sleeping accommodations in plenty.

From an exterior standpoint this home leaves little to be desired. It suggests the Colonial type of architecture in that it has an entrance placed in the center, with the Colonial bainace at either side. The large sun parlor at one end is a modern addition that is found in all presentday good homes.

The house is rectangular in shape, which means that it can be erected at the minimum of cost. At the same time the roof is so designed that the plain effect of this shape of house is taken away. The building is of frame construction, set on a concrete foun-dation to grade and brick founda-tion walls to the first floor sill. Above the walls are covered with stucco over either wood or metal lath or some one of the patented stucco boards. The brick foundation walls and the brick porch and sun par pillars add to the attractiveness

The entrance leads to a central hall out of which run the stairs. To the right is the living room, 15 feet, 8 inches, by 25 feet, which is un-

On the opposite side of the house at the front is the dining room, 16 feet, 6 inches, by 15 feet, 8 inches of the dining room is the kitchen, 9 by 11 feet.

Study of the floor plans that also accompany this article will show the features that have been put into the kitchen. Adjacent to the dining room is a breakfast nock, where meals can be served without the work of preparing the dining room. At the same time the nook is partially sep-arated from the kitchen. A large pan-try with an optside window is back of the breakfast nook. On the other side of the room is the entry from he rear porch, with a closet at one

Romany in the use of the space in this house is continued to the second floor, where the architect has ingenlously provided five good-size bed foot her Bill."

From this brief description it will be realized that this house is one that will appeal to the head of a large family who wants to build a home to house them comfortably and at the same time has not a large amount of money to invest. The rooms are many but are arranged so that the work of caring for the home can be done with the smallest expenditure of energy. Every convenience and comfort are provided for.

Such a home as this in these days of high rentals would be held at such a figure that it truly is "cheaper to build than pay rent." The first thought of the architect who designed this home was to give the home owner the maximum amount of space, and a comfortable and handsome home at the least possible cost.

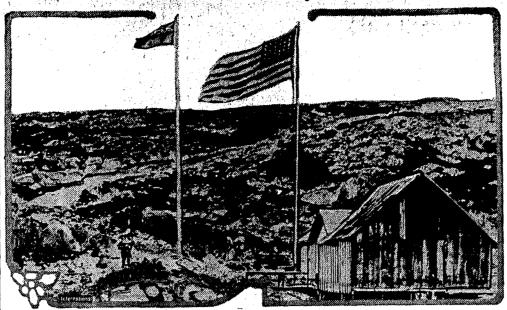

Was Borrowed Middling. Gen. Robert E. Lee was a frugal

man. His ordinary dinner consisted of a head of cabbage boiled in salt water and a pone of corn bread. It is told that on one occasion a numbe of gentlemen had an appointment to dine with the Confederate warrior General Lee had ordered his servant to provide a repast of cabbage and middlings. A very small bit of midbrought in; so small was it, in fact, that the guests were stricken with un due politeness and each in turn de clined it, and the middling remained on the dish when the dinner came to an end and the guests arose to go. Next day the general, remembering the untouched middling, ordered his negro servant to serve it up for dinner. The negro hesitated, scratched his head and at length said: "You see, Marse Robert, de fac' am this: that theah middlin' was borrowed middlin', and I's done give it back to the man wheat

Easy to Get Rid of Enemy. Long before bullets were ever thought of as an ideal messenger of death, the idea of working evil on an enemy was extensively practiced by the Ojibwa Indian. He would make a small wooden image of the one whose destruction he sought, and then pierce its head or heart with a needle. He was positive in his belief that the of his hate would be similarly affected. However, to make certain he would burn the puppet to the accompaniment of magical words.

INCREASE FOR DISABLED MEN

Darrow Bill Enlarges Amount by $20 a Month for Veterans While Tak-ing Training.

Another important victory in the American Legion's long fight for beneficial legislation in behalf of sick and disabled ex-service men is revealed in a telegram announcing passage of the bill, recently received at Legion na-tional headquarters from Thomas W. Miller, chairman of the organization's national legislative committee in Washington.

The senate in a night session, ac cording to the message, passed the measure as a rider to the deficiency appropriation bill, and as it previously had been passed by the house, it now awalts only the signature of the president to become a law. The Darrow bill increases, by $20 s month, the amount of money paid to disabled veterans of the world war while taking training under the direction of the federal board of vocational

This is the second time the Legion has obtained an increase for the maimed heroes, having pushed through congress, last December, the Sweet bill, which raised the amount of com pensation for them from $30 to $80 month.

"The passage of the Darrow bill," aid Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant of the Legion, "was largely due to the work done by Legionnaires who visited Washington in its interest. General published reports at that time indi-cated that the Legion representatives confined their activities solely to the pending fourfold optional compensa-tion bill. Results show that the needs of the disabled men always have stood rst on the Legion's program and the organization is going right on working for these unfortunates, irrespective of what congress may or may not see fit to do with the problems of ex-service en as a whole.

"The passage of the Darrow bill will give great impetus to the Legion's co-operative plan to assist the federal board in getting every eligible disabled man into training at once, as many had refrained from taking training because of the inadequate compensation heretofore allowed."

"In a very few years," Mr. D'Oller wrote, in part, "the ex-service men of this country will be the most prominent in business, in the professions and in politics, not merely because they are ex-service men, but because, in order to enter the service, they were picked men, physically, mentally and morally, and being thus selected and having the advantage of great experience in the army, navy and marine

FURLOUGH AT ATLANTIC CITY

Famous Resort Post Arranges to Accommodate Former Service Men on Their Vacations.

The Atlantic City post of the American Legion is hooking up the A. E. F. leave area idea to the possibilities of America's summer resort. It is invit-ing Legionnaires from any part of the United States to spend a furlough at Atlantic City, and it is establishing for them a tent camp at which the expense item of quarters is reduced to a minimum. So, even though our well-known former skipper, Uncle Sam, isn't available to issue transportation and commutation of rations and quarters, any Legionnaire may now spend a vacation at Atlantic City without going financially flat in the process.

Bill Fisher, formerly top sergeant of Company C. Twenty-third engineers, is the father of the Atlantic City leaved area plan. He put the scheme up to the Atlantic City post and the post voted to carry it out. A committee was authorized to go ahead with the
